Hi Kristen, I read the Buzz and it is very good. I did mention to Betsy, that I am not comfortable putting anything about numbers of chemists employed, the average number of samples a chemist can do, and also that a drug like oxycodone is more difficult to analyze than other things. I don't believe this publication is the forum for that data. Other than that, its excellent. CBS

Hi Chuck and Betsy,
Please review the final draft of "The Buzz" - Julie has seen it, and doesn't have any changes, but if you want to change anything please let me know by the end of this week. I would love to come back and do more issues (or do them on my off time!), but it looks like this will be the only one....I should be on the 3rd floor for most of the day today, so stop by 308 (Lead Billing) to see me.
Thanks!
Kristen
